|--------------------------|---|
| Content           | The plan is to cover consumption-saving theory in standard incomplete markets models and in models with endogenously incomplete markets. The course will cover both infinite horizon and overlapping generation models. In addition, the course covers investment decisions of firms and topics on labor markets and income dynamics.   |
| Learning outcomes | The course aims at providing students with the state-of-the-art methods to answer questions from different fields in macroeconomics. The course will introduce several widely used modelling frameworks and introduces students to the analysis of these frameworks. The goal is that students at the end of the course can perform independent analysis of macroeconomic questions using the theoretical frameworks and methods from the course. |
